Hobby/Interest

Game Development.

I'm interested in game development and pay attention to updates and events in the game industry. I'm have experience using Unity to perform simple playful tasks, including the movements and the ability to interact with the environment. I'm also familiar with the structures of the entity classes that makes the game easy to maintain.

Human-Computer Interaction.

Through in-depth understanding of UI design since middle school, I am able to quickly define a general UI structure of an application and create standard & good-looking UI element prefabs using Sketch, Figma and Adobe XD. I also possess the experience of user-feedback gathering and evaluation through relevant courses in the University.
